Trident 1976: Take a sip and taste its heady flavor

Good morning. Or Good Afternoon. Or good whatever time it is that you are reading Trident 1976.

Welcome.

Go ahead. Find your picture. You're in there with the underclassmen or with the seniors or with the football team or with the Drama Club. But don't be too disappointed if your picture looks like you. The camera doesn't lie.

Now, take a moment out to read the cover with your eyes and fingertips. Notice the texture, the colors, the feel of the book's weight in your hands.

Hold the book in one hand and with the other use your thumb to fan away the pages. Put your nose close to the leaves as they breeze by. Smell the fresh, new flavor of the printer's ink.

Get the feel of the book. After all, there is only one book like this in the world – and it belongs to you.

Thousands of individual stories lie sandwiched between the covers of the 1976 school year. And each one is special.

Some are easy to recognize, while others are hidden behind a smile or a surprised expression in a candid photograph.

The individuality of the persons at BHS in 1976 can never be taken away. The Trident has brought as many of these stories as it can to the surface.

Woven throughout the pattern of the layout of the book – in pictures and copy – these stories show Brunswick High School as it was in 1976 – itself a special year that will only happen once in every one hundred.

Look. Find them before you shelve this volume for the very last time.

Photos are Homecoming memory

Floats, a queen and a win on the gridiron kept the Homecoming weekend a vivid memory in the minds of BHS students.

"We See the Light" printed next to a scoreboard reading, 77-0, the junior's float, and "Possess the Colts," the sophomore's float, tied for first place honors in the pre-game float competition.

Sherri Morton, a senior, was crowned queen before the game and reigned over her court, the BHS – Cloverleaf football game and the Saturday night dance.

Attendants to the queen were: Pam Echols, freshman; Susie Rucky, sophomore; Kim Hanson and Rita Navarro, juniors; and Jean Star and Chris Horschler, seniors.

Following the pre-game festivities, the Blue Devils took the Colts to task. BHS won, 22-8.

The Homecoming dance was held on Saturday night in the high school cafetorium and Commons. "Photographs and Memories" served as the theme.

Couples "bumped" their way to the music of "August," a rock band.

The Oct. 24 weekend became a picture in an album and a memory in the lives of those who attended Homecoming 1975.

Gang war rumbles over BHS stage; wedding of Tony, Maria thwarted

Violence, romance and suspense heated the BHS stage into a full blaze of action when "West Side Story" opened on Nov. 14 as the fall musical production.

Leonard Bernstein's play envelopes the lives of two street gangs, the Sharks and Jets, battling for supremacy on the streets of New York.

Bernardo, played by Mike Wiseman, sliced the orders for the Sharks and Riff, portrayed by Carl Prokop, headed the Jets.

Ironically, love pierces the hearts of Bernardo's sister, Maria, portrayed by Fontaine Follansbee and Riff's secondhand man, Tony, played by Bob Senkar.

As anxious tension rises like yeast in bread, the gangs are brought to a tragic end when Riff and Bernardo are murdered in a rumble.

"When you're a Jet," "Tonight," "Maria" and "Officer Krupke" punctuated the drama with excitement, beauty and warmth.

Real life death halts 'Story'

The play took advantage of the musical talents of the BHS student body plus the acting abilities of some adult members of the high school and Brunswick community.

Syl Balash, director of the 1976 edition of the Brunswick Entertainment Company's show, Frank Davey, a member of the Entertainment Company, Mrs. Elaine Keller, A BHS English teacher, Dave Rogers, BHS history teacher, and Lynne Rohlik, a 1970 graduate of BHS, lent their creative talents to make "West Side Story" as real as possible.

But the tragedy portrayed on the stage became a catastrophe in real life when Scott Christian, a sophomore, was killed in an auto accident following the second Thursday night's production.

In memory of Scott, the cast halted the Friday night performance.

Tuning up for another fight, the two gangs face forward.

Members of the cast for "West Side Story" were: FRONT ROW: Dave Barker, Betty Thesling, Lauri Getson, Scott Christian, Annette Manco, Linda Carper, Keith Krist, Jeff Willetts, Chris Gerding. Columbus playwright provides humor for BHS in 'Thurber Carnival' cuts

"A Thurber Carnival," directed by Mrs. Nancy Sprowls, was presented Feb. 27 and 28 by the BHS drama department.

The play, a series of humorous skits, starred Chris Cobb, Fontaine Follansbee, Steve Hengeli, Traci Neely and Jennie Snoddy.

James Thurber, born in Columbus, is considered by some to be the best American author-humorist since Mark Twain. He was at one time a reporter for the "Columbus Evening Dispatch." Thurber's writings and drawings depict urban life and his confusion in the world.

His most famous work is "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty." Among his best writings are "My Life and Hard Times." "The Thurber Album," and a play entitled, "The Male Animal."

Love is more than an affection – it's a funny play about men, women

Love? That was the name of a combination of skits depicting four views of men-women relationships written by five different authors.

The first selection was "Bea, Frank, Richie and Joan" taken from Renee Taylor and Joseph Bologna's Lovers and Other Strangers. The cutting starred Mary Ellen Hunt, Tom May, Dale Christian and Margie Hay.

Plaza Suite by Neil Simon starred Fontaine Follansbee, Chris Cobb, David Barker and Sherry Norman.

The third selection also came from Lovers and Other Strangers. Jim Gombos portrayed Art and Debbie Bysak was Ruth.

"I'm Herbert," a humorous piece about two elderly persons who cannot remember to whom they are married, came from You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running.

Starring in the skit were Ed Kling and Jennifer Snoddy.

"Mike and Susan," starring Tom Theobald and Traci Neely, was a selection from the Taylor and Bologna play.

All freshman cast portrays story of moonstruck princess by Thurber

Dreams of a princess were reenacted by freshmen as they presented the children's play "Many Moons" under the direction of Mr. Howard Cook on Jan. 27, 28 and 29.

The elementary students in the Brunswick school system watched as Roxanne Wade portrayed the princess who wished for the moon and became miserable and solemn because she couldn't touch it.

"King" George Djelic ordered all the wise men to search for the answer and change his daughter's disposition.

Finally, a smart, snappy jester (Mike Creswell) presented a tiny moon to the maiden, saving the kingdom from bearing her sorrow.

Supporting cast members were: Gloria Whitcomb, Karen Prill, Carla Catazarite, Robin Saylor, Cheryl Dorner, Doug Reed, Sam Alexander and James East.

This was the first year that the children's play cast was comprised totally of freshmen.

Games highlight first club's fair

To make a little money, promote the school's clubs and provide a good time for those who wanted a night out, BHS sponsored its first annual All-Club's Fair.

The event, held on Feb. 21, had the backing of 20 clubs for the 418 who came to dunk-the-dolly, play roulette, arm wrestle or stuff themselves in the pizza and pancake eating contests.

Booths and activities kept the students busy throughout the afternoon and evening hours.

The French and German clubs provided customers with native food, the soccer club sponsored a pie throw and the varsity club had a basketball throw.

A little something for everyone was the order of the night, according to Mr. David Fortier, fair organizer.

With a spanking new building came a crisp production performed by the West House's talented freshmen.

"Spring Fling" revealed that for several years to come, BHS will have students willing and able to sing, dance and act.

The one-hour talent-variety show, under the direction of Miss Linda Hamilton, featured skits and songs from Broadway shows and movies.

Popular songs included in the program were: "Theme from Mahogany," "A Time for Us" and "Love and the Lonely People."

"Honey Bun" and "Matchmaker" from Broadway's "South Pacific" and "Fidler on the Roof" provided a change of pace.

Even the Abbott and Costello "Who's on First" routine was resurrected for the audience.

Woven through the fabric of the production was a tribute to America's 200th birthday. Patriotism flourished with "Yankee Doodle Dandy," "You're a Grand Old Flag" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

States' delegates choose Arizona senator Mo Udall to represent Democrats in the November election

Morris Udall became Brunswick High School's nomination to represent the Democratic Party in the November presidential election. Udall was chosen on the second ballot in the mock convention held in the gym on May 21.

Amid the hoopla and excitement of a convention, Udall bumped Sen. Henry "Scoop" Jackson out of the running following the first round of voting. Several key states rallied behind the senator from Arizona as he charged toward the necessary 175 votes to win the election.

Planned and staged by the presidential class of the American government course, the convention honored John Oberholtzer, Medina County Commissioner, as the keynote speaker.

In his message to the student delegates, Mr. Oberholtzer urged the youth of America to respond to the call of leadership and select a winning candidate from the party. He outlined the problems America faces in the Bicentennial year.

Tom May, permanent chairman of the convention, introduced the candidates.

George Wallace (Tim Kuppe) told the convention that America needed his strong leadership. Jimmy Carter (Del Keith) tried to smile his way into the winner's circle.

Hubert Humphrey (Ed Kling) and his wife, Muriel (Tina Hankinson), brought ovations from the delegates as he outlined his priorities. "Scoop" Jackson (Ken Moss) urged the state's representatives to follow his lead.

But Morris Udall (Dan Cipullo) became the people's choice.

Carter, however, became the national choice in the real convention.

BHS celebrates a 200th birthday with an all-school American festival

The spirit of the Bicentennial enveloped BHS during the week of May 10 as Mr. Earl Fessenden and Mr. Clyde Kincaid's American Studies class planned and pulled off a week filled with skits, auctions and dress-up days.

Jeff LaHue, American Studies student coordinated the project.

"The purpose was to get as many people as possible in BHS involved in the Bicentennial celebration" he said.

The class broke up into different groups to organize the project. One group organized a time capsule that contained momentoes depicting the lifestyle of 1976.

This time capsule was presented to Helen West, mayor of Brunswick at the July 4th ceremonies. It is to be opened during the Tricentennial celebration.

Trees, paint help brighten BHS

To improve the outward appearance of BHS and involve students in working together, Student Government completed two beautification projects over the Easter vacation.

Sherrie Morton and Irene MacDougall headed the projects to landscape the courtyard between the 100 and 300 wings of the high school building. Students planted flowers and flowering trees.

Project Two was painting the rusty poles lining the driveways into the school a bright red, white and blue.

When students returned from Easter break, flowering plums and pines stood in the courtyard. A Bicentennial flair greeted the students and teachers as they drove toward the building.

At the beginning of the year, of course, Student Government conducted the Homecoming festivities. The Senate and House worked diligently preparing the float competition, queen selection and dance.

During the winter the government held a Valentine's Day dance, too.

Service and unity is clubs' purpose

To unite and support Brunswick athletics and become involved with the school and community was the purpose of a group of young athletes in the Varsity Club.

Athletes who reach this level in interscholastic sports qualify for the club.

Its activities varied throughout the year as it held a weight-lifting seminar in the winter and sponsored car washes and a fertilizer sale in the spring.

Student aides help maintain a well-run office

"Mr. Becks, you have a phone call in the office."

"Mrs. Vavra, there is a visitor in the office waiting to see you."

"Bonnie Beineke, you are to call home during your lunch hour."

And who delivered the myriad phone calls, announcements and visitor requests throughout the year at the East and West House? The office aides.

These students, assigned to the main office in each building, worked for Mrs. Steiger, Mrs. Palya and Mrs. Ficyk.

When a teacher or student was needed at the phone or in the office, the aides were sent on a search and find expedition to collar the person wanted in the office.

If you ever went to the card catalogue, found the number of the book you wanted, then went to the stacks to select it, you could thank the library aides for making sure that the right book was in its proper place.

The aides did a lot of the sorting of books so that the librarians were free to assist students.

Did your teacher need a record player or a film strip projector second or third period?

Actors' group, scholastic honorary provide valuable school recognition

Putting on a high school play takes more time and effort than the audience may realize. The Thespians and Drama Club certainly know how much work is involved.

Dedicated to the production of plays and musicals, these theatre groups try to produce as many attractions as possible throughout the school year.

This year the actors and actresses performed a children's play, the musical, "West Side Story," a collection of short plays under the title of "Love?" and "The Thurber Carnival."

For the academically inclined, the National Honor Society (NHS) provided recognition of a student's leadership, service and character.

To permit the JVS students to have the same opportunity of being selected into this honorary, NHS changed its format this year of choosing its members. The evaluation now requires a 3.4 overall accumulative grade point average instead of the 3.0 accum with two major and two minor academic courses.

Greenhouse offers wide, varied experiments for budding scientists

Because of its excellent service to the school, the Geology Society was awarded the "Club of the Year" certificate at the awards assembly June 4.

With the addition of the greenhouse to the West House, the Geology and Science Clubs worked hard getting the structure in shape. The greenhouse was built to help increase the students' knowledge about horticulture, to grow plants for the students and their parents' gardens and to conduct soil and plant experiments.

"The students put a lot of work and time into the greenhouse. The Geology Society stained and varnished all the wood. They constructed the shelves and table," said Mr. Ron Fabich, club adviser.

The Geology Society spent $85 for stain, varnish, nails, bolts and drains as part of its service project for the year.

The Science Club offered the students the chance to pursue individual study about a current problem in science.

Language clubs get into native culture, lifestyle; student projects display foreign structures, food

To promote the purpose and value of language study the Commons was turned into a showplace of language projects during the first annual Foreign Language Fair in March.

Prizes were awarded for first, second and third places in each language.

Marty Steiger took a first place in French, Phil Short took a second and Donna Rauelski and Linda Homer came in third.

In German Michael Deming, Bob Katz and Nora Klebow placed first. Vincent Morton and Rita Began came in second and third, respectively.

Placing first in Latin were Bob Wheeler and Al MacDougall. Wendy Dillinger and Sandy Marsh took second and third.

Receiving a first place award in Spanish were Chuck Walton and Cathy Compton. Taking second were Laura Sopko, Tammy Wohlfiel and Robin Ross.

Pam Conley, Cindy Craigs and Kim Hanson took third place in Spanish.

When the clubs were not creating exhibits of Roman forts, German villages or baking foreign foods, they worked on other activities that would enrich the value of language study.

The Spanish Club wrote to pen pals and helped sponsor a child in Guatemala. The group also made extensive plans to visit Mexico over the summer.

The German Club made a spring trip to taste old world culture in Frankenmuth, Michigan.

The Latin Club sold Christmas-O-Grams, and entered the Ohio Junior Classical League Convention in March.

Publications show writers' abilities

"Get your subscription to the Devilier now!" was the cry of the newspaper staff as the regular 4-page edition was expanded to a news filled eight pages. The Devilier always had some interesting story to report or an important event to cover.

At the year's end, the newspaper had won six awards at the NOSPA competition held at Kent State University.

For the second year in a row, the sports page won a second place. Kathy Gabrowski won a second place for her story on emotional neglect. Rhonda Beckler captured an honorable mention for the best editorial page.

In photography, Pam Conley won an honorable mention for her photo-essay on lines and textures at the competition. Kathy Gabrowski and John Sutherland each won honorable mention for feature and sports photography respectively.

While the Devilier staff was rushing to meet its deadlines, so was the Trident staff. These persons worked steadily to get the 248-page book to the publisher on time.

They made it.

And in the spring, the Senior Honors English class edited and printed The Muse. Filled with poetry, short stories and art from students throughout the school, the magazine sported humor, tragedy and a serious look at the world.

The yearbook staff enjoyed last year's book, too.

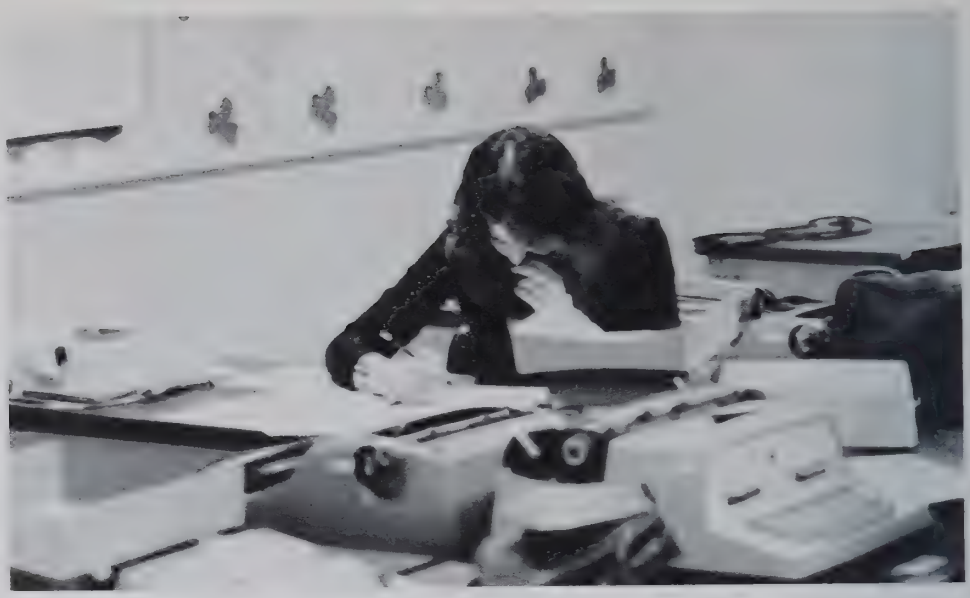
DECA, IOE hone vocational skills



Arlene Smith knows the meaning of "All By Myself."

As students walked passed room 302 as they changed classes, they undoubtedly heard the clicking of typewriters in the business-like atmosphere of junior and senior IOE.

Under the direction of Miss Evelyn Kreidle, the senior IOE class became the Apex Corporation. Throughout the year, the soon-to-be-secretaries learned as many jobs of the office as possible in the imaginary company.

Upon graduation the Apex employees had the training for an excellent secretarial job.

But for those who did not like the 9-5 day, DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) met down the hall.

Involved with out of school jobs and training to prepare young adults for a career, DECA placed students in jobs that would give them experience at a skill.

In addition for working part of the day at Sears, or as a beautician or at a nursery, these young people sponsored dances at school, helped with the Brunswick Halloween parade and entertained their employers at a spring banquet.

Work-study focus is on learning

Not all students learn the same way. That is one of the reasons for work-study programs such as OWE and OWA.

Open to students who need an education through a work-field experience, Mr. Thomas Repp, Mr. John Wilson and Mr. Elton Beery helped their classes learn basic school requirements plus the experience of working outside of class.

When the students were not in the classroom, they were out in the community, learning a skill or trade that will enable them to get a job upon graduation. Some worked in restaurants; others in nurserys.

But whatever the job, the students developed an awareness of what the world will be like for them after leaving formal education.

Throughout the year, the students in these courses took field trips, listened to guest speakers and spent time together in common activities.

Clubs encourage activity, talent

In a year with the Winter Olympics televised from Innsbruk, Austria, skiing meant more to the more than 60-member club dedicated to learning the finer points of this snow sport.

Based at Brandywine Lodge, the club skied every Wednesday through January and February.

But the club got a taste of a larger slope as it took the weekend of Feb. 7-8 for a skiing holiday at Peak 'n' Peek in New York state.

Talented artists applied their skills to the shops in Laurel Square as they painted the windows of the stores for a Christmas project. They also painted the graphic arts signs on the walls of the newly-painted East House.

Bicyclists got in shape early last spring as they began another year of riding across miles of Ohio highways.

The club planned to cover 424 miles in six trips. Two of the expeditions included a 53-mile trip through the Cuyahoga River Valley and a 61-mile ride to Oberlin and Wellington.

Mr. David Fortier, club adviser, planned a 10-day excursion around Lake Erie and through Michigan, Canada, New York and Pennsylvania for 675 miles.

Music programs add spirit to BHS

While most of the student body rushed home or to a job after the school day had ended, a small group of dedicated musicians remained to pound out practice session after session to produce a band show at halftime during a football game or a concert in December.

The 91-member band could always be counted on to be at any sporting or community event. Under the direction of Mr. Al Sego, the band performed several concerts during the year, including the annual Christmas and spring programs.

If it wasn't the big band sound, it was the soft or up-beat tunes provided by the choir and chorus. Mrs. Margaret Keine directed the ensembles in the concerts and Bicentennial songfests.

Together, the band and choral groups added to the spirit of BHS.

And speaking of spirit, the Pep Band, a group of talented students who enjoyed music and sport, helped psych up the basketball team with their enthusiastic sounds from November through March.

Pep Club cheers, supports teams

R-O-W-D-I-E. That's the way we spell Rowdie, Rowdie. Let's get Rowdie!

Changing from a low squeak to a loud roar, this cheer seemed to be the favorite for the 26-member Pep Club this year.

But the club did more than cheer at the games. Throughout the season, its members were hard at work in the empty halls of BHS painting signs for upcoming sporting events.

While the Pep Club was raising spirit, the gym leaders were helping the physical education teachers with their busy schedules and large gym classes. Jobs ranged anywhere from leading exercises, to taking attendance to filling in for a missing pitcher in a softball game.

The majorettes made the field look prettier as they twirled for the crowd as part of the half-time entertainment.

West House opens to 600 freshmen

On Sept. 2, 600 freshmen entered the newly constructed West House.

The building and classes ran smoothly, but the key to the success of both depended upon the ability of the faculty, students and school personnel to work together.

Mr. Robert Joos, former assistant principal at the East House, got the assignment to head the new building. Mrs. Charlotte Ficyk was the West House secretary.

Coupled with a new building, additional education facilities were included in the building's design.

A greenhouse was attached to the building for the science departments' experiments with plants. The 600 freshmen enrolled in science worked along with five teachers in completing the structure with plants and soil.

An extensive, highly equipped media center was completed by spring.

A tape recording room, reading labs, conference rooms, audio-visual rooms, typing rooms, and a librarian's workroom were functioning by the end of the school year.

Chi Shun Chan visited from the East.

Sophomores got everything new except their shoes.

Sophomores seem stuck between most everything

Of all the classes in high school, the sophomores are caught somewhere in the middle of everything.

They stand in long lines eagerly awaiting their rings and jackets, which tell them that they have passed a milestone in their life.

They also stand in line, the last in the East House, to schedule classes for the next year. Of course, much of what they wish to sign up for has long ago been closed. So they take what is left to them.

But the Class of '78 was undying as it tied with the juniors for first place in the Homecoming float competition.

Now it can prove that it is ready to take on the responsibilities of a class as it leaves its lowly position to hold car washes and candy sales as it gets ready for the junior-senior prom next year.

Officers of the Class of 1978 were: TOP: Keith Krist, president; Linda Petraus, treasurer; Sheri Pavelschak, vice-president. NOT PICTURED: Jenny Snoddy, secretary.

Exciting year spurs juniors on; class shows unending enthusiasm

A tie with the seniors in the Homecoming float competition started the juniors' year off on the right foot.

A spectacular prom held at Swingos at the Coliseum in Richfield ended the year for the exuberant juniors.

In between 35 juniors were initiated into the National Honor Society. And Phil Said, Mark Johnson; and Tim Buit represented BHS at the 39th Buckeye Boys' State at Ohio University.

Rita Navarro and Janice Themes were elected representatives to the Girls' Buckeye State at Capital University.

To pay for the prom the entire class sold chocolate bars and netted $1600. A car wash or two and donut sales helped defray the expense of the spring dinner-dance.

JVS educates for career study

The JVS is here to stay, as 180 BHS students know.

Cosmetology took the place of civics; graphic arts replaced geography; and welding was a substitute for world history.

Students attending the Medina County Joint Vocational School had the opportunity to study a career. Most attended the academic courses in the morning and then followed a specialized training program or work-study field in the afternoon.

Learning secretarial skills is a part of the JVS.

The Coliseum in Richfield, home of the Cavaliers and Crusaders, hosted the junior-senior prom on May 29.

Juniors go all out with prom held at huge Coliseum

Tucked away from the main arena of the Coliseum are a basketball court and Swingo's Restaurant. On May 29 these became the dance floor and dining hall for the couples who attended the junior-senior prom.

The juniors almost outdid themselves as they selected the massive structure in Richfield as their choice for the spring formal.

With a "Reach for the Stars" theme, those who attended had dinner of roast beef or veal catered by Swingo's Restaurant. Following the meal, the couples danced until 1 a.m. to the beat of "After Dark," a rock band.

Midway through the dancing, the prom court was presented and the king and queen introduced. Jean Star and Phil Lanning ruled over the prom.

On their own couples zoomed away to Cedar Point for a day of amusement or to the canoe liveries in Loudonville for a trip downstream on Sunday.

A couple gets a spectacular view of the Coliseum.

"After Dark" pounds out a rock beat.

As the new year began, seniors were faced with a surprise. The Commons' walls were painted to brighten up the surroundings, the class flag flew high on the wall, and "new" couches were added.

The Christmas spirit was here as seniors decorated the Commons more than ever before. The tree was trimmed from the top to the bottom with homemade ornaments; snowflakes stuck to the walls like a winter wonderland to make it a real old-fashioned Christmas.

"What test do I have to take to go to college?" "Do I have enough credits to graduate?" asked seniors.

But Miss Leona Marra helped the graduates to-be with her counseling.

Relaxing, Andy Platt studies his project.

3 seniors compete on quiz show; Demsey, Jerzerski win top prizes

The real test of an education is whether a student can use what he has learned. BHS seniors proved that they did have a command of their knowledge.

Irene MacCougall, Rick Stoper and alternate Lori Cox represented BHS on the "Academic Challenge" quiz show on TV 5.

In the competition, the Brunswick team finished third with 320 points. Berea placed second with 325 points and Brooklyn finished first, capturing 425 points.

Judy Jerzerski won a trip to Topeka, Kan., to compete in the national finals for high-speed steno. She brought back a first place.

Also from the JVS, Mike Demsey competed against other students in commercial art in a contest in Miami, Fla. Earlier he had won in Ohio state competition.

Class of '76 hears 3 honor graduates

In this, an historical year, the graduating Class of 1976 made a little history itself.

Forsaking the confines of the Baldwin-Wallace gymnasium in favor of a larger facility, 454 seniors marched onto the floor of the massive Coliseum in Richfield to accept their diplomas.

This, the first class to graduate from the Coliseum, also heard three top honor students give commencement speeches. Irene MacCougall, Lynn Simmons and Rick Stoper each had 4.6 averages to propel them to the top of their class academically.

In the speeches themselves, Irene showed the similarities between the lives of the graduates and Robert Frost's poetry, Lynn held a challenge of returning America to the pure and clean way of life of the early Indian settlers and Rick showed the graduates the importance of freedom in a society while making reference to the now-exiled Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn.

The senior ensemble expressed the class's feelings with their theme song, "Mahogany" and an up-beat "Free to Be – You and Me."

Before Mr. C. R. Huston announced the names of the graduates, Mr. Mike Carlson, Board of Education president, offered the graduates a chance to consider the possibilities of their future.

With the class motto – The Past Forever Gone – The Future Still Our Own – 454 young men and women stepped out of the Coliseum to fulfill the promises that their twelve years of education had provided them.

In line the to-be-graduates listen to the other 450 names read.

Faculty hits record 110 members

Booming with a record 110 members, the faculty had the job of educating 2,000 young minds. Departments ranged from a mere three teachers in art to the 15 English teachers.

Teachers remained unpredictable. Mr. Earl Fessenden appeared as Geoffery Chaucer in the Quill and Scroll play; Mr. Carl Becks dribbled a basketball for the faculty team against the Cincinatti Bengals in a benefit basketball game and Mr. David Rogers played the bossy, aggressive Officer Krupke in "West Side Story."

Ten new members joined the staff. They were: Mr. Anthony Verdi, Mr. Elton Beery, Mrs. Sue Butz, Mrs. Jean Trammell, Mr. Aladin Ferian, Mrs. Sybil Kaboy, Mr. John Wilson, Miss Cathy Cain, Mr. Keith Newnham, and Mrs. Theresia Dunlay.

After 28 years as band director at BHS, Mr. Albert Sego retired this year.

Field trips help students to expand classroom horizons

While field trips were fun and got students out of classes, they were educational. Teachers conducted field trips that were relevant to what they were teaching.

This year students went on a variety of field trips.

The American history classes saw the movie, "1776" at the Great Northern Theatre. Mr. Tim Lance took the world history classes to see the play, "Caesar and Cleopatra" when they were studying Roman history.

Mr. Richard Christy arranged for his criminal law classes to go to Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court to witness trials and to help students understand the judicial system.

Spanish classes visited Akron, the Cleveland Auditorium and John Carrol University to see Spanish dance troupes.

The German classes went to the Hofbrau House for a taste of German food and culture. During Easter vacation, some of the students went to Frankenmuth, Mich., to learn about the Bavarian influence on German culture.

The OWE program is based on a series of two-hour field trips per week. The organization visited Brookpark's Chevrolet plant, the Medina County Jail and courthouse, Donut Land and various restaurants.

To learn about different styles of furniture and carpeting, the home furnishings classes visited Name Brand Warehouse in Middleburg Heights and the Firestone Carpet Store in Brunswick.

Keaton named as superintendent; 2 other administrators resign posts

When Mr. J. D. Willetts retired as Superintendent of Brunswick Schools in April of 1975, Mr. Paul E. Keaton, assistant superintendent, assumed the duties as head administrator of the system.

In February of 1976, the Board of Education appointed Mr. Keaton as the official superintendent.

Originally from Tennessee, Mr. Keaton has seen much of the world. A 20-year veteran of the U.S. Navy, he traveled in France, Greece, Alaska and North Africa.

Other changes loomed on the administrative horizon as Mr. C. R. Huston, high school principal for five years, resigned his position to return as a guidance counselor.

And late in May, Mr. Vernon Nicholas, assistant to the superintendent, announced his resignation because of health reasons.

Added to the high school staff, however, was Mr. Robert Joos as principal of the new West House. Previously, Mr. Joos had been Dean of Boys at the high school's East House.

Secretaries, counselors assure that schools function properly

Answering phones and typing up attendance sheets were just two of the jobs that the BHS secretaries did each day to keep the office running smoothly.

Mrs. Dixie Palya, Mrs. Barbara Steiger, Mrs. Ethel Johnson, and Mrs. Leah Mortelette were in charge of the secretarial duties in the East House. Mrs. Charlotte Ficyk went to the West House to assume duties there, and Mrs. Marilyn Salisbury worked as Mr. Kubinski's personal secretary.

If you needed assistance in changing a class or finding a college, you visited the counselors' office. Miss Leona Marra, Mr. Desmond Brannon, Mrs. Betsy Linville, Mr. Anthony Verdi and Ms. Lanex Brink were there to give you assistance.

The BHS secretaries were: FRONT ROW: Mrs. Leah Mortelette, and Mrs. Ethel Johnson. BACK ROW: Mrs. Barbara Steiger, Mrs. Marilyn Salisbury, Mrs. Nancy Koverman and Mrs. Dixie Palya.

All-purpose staff keeps BHS bright

Mrs. Hanwell listens intently to a student's request.

Ever notice how highly polished the halls were after a vacation? Or what about the spotless glass walls of the library and cafeteria? Or how about the plowed parking lots after the mid-winter snowstorms?

Because BHS had a hard-working custodial staff, the building was clean and well-run. Headed by Mr. Robert Heazlit, the seven-person staff worked round the clock to make the building presentable.

Trying to provide nutritious meals that pleased appetites was a big job for the cafeteria staff.

Because the West House did not have a fully equipped kitchen, food for the freshmen was transported to them in specially heated units. The food was then placed in huge micro-wave ovens and heated until it was served.

If students had trouble finding a book or a magazine, they'd consult one of the librarians. They were there to help with research papers or to assist students in locating a magazine.

The library was noticeably quieter this year, too, because of the wall-to-wall carpeting that was installed.

Plowing snow from the parking lot was just one of Mr. Robert Heazlit's jobs.

Pamela Bunge

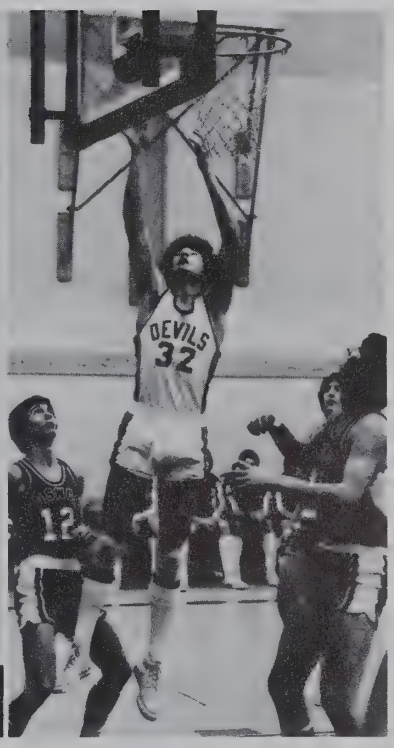
Jean Christian

Nancy Hanwell

Getting ready for school was a hard working staff that kept the building clean and shiny after the year began.

Preparing appetizing meals for the 1660 students who jammed the East and West House cafeterias were: Helen Kling, Jerri Houseman, Bev Dormish, Chris Dubyna, Thelma Grove, Harriet Gavlak, Lois Peters, and Millie Zietlow, cafeteria manager.

Sports



Tough opponents plague harriers

Competing against some of the toughest and most experienced teams, the harriers bumped heads with Bay Village, Maple Heights, Berea and eventually the top 19 teams in Ohio.

The cross-country team won two invitationals and were runner-ups in two others. BHS placed 20th in the November state finals in Columbus.

Running in their final year were seniors Matt Dillion, Ted Dukles, Bob Miller, Dan Cipullo and Jay Menke.

Lack of leadership was the team's major difficulty this year, according to coach Joe Kendrick.

Promising j.v. harriers look to the state championships soon.

Devilettes set record at 12-2

The Devilette volleyball team spiked its way to its best season in history, finishing the regular season, 10-1. After three games in the tournament, the team won two before bowing out to Bay Village.

Effectively used by team this season, the spike is the most difficult play to stop. The girls learned to use it to their advantage.

Lori Rucky, senior, had the hardest, fastest and most accurate serve.

Diane Bloom, senior, had the most points scored in a two-match set with 19.

Playing in their last games for the Devilettes were: Lori Rucky, Jill Stilgenbauer, Carol Grandinetti, Vicki Ferio, Diane Bloom, Tina Hankinson and Karen Hill.

The junior varsity's winning season will provide Coach Margaret Fletcher with the foundation for another top-flight team next year.

Ready for the ball are Diane Bloom and Jill Stilgenbauer.

A spike by Colleen Goonan wins the match.

Golfers maintain winning ways; girls have team, seek opponents

Again the golf team registered a winning season. This year's squad amassed a sparkling 15-4-1 record.

In its second year as a fall sport, the linksters performed well for Coach Henry Gimble.

Varsity standouts were Darren Rabant and Tom Campbell. Rabant scored a hole-in-one early.

Mr. Bob Leibold took over the coaching duties of the junior varsity that played at the Valley Forge course.

As the season ended, the j.v. team stood at six wins and seven loses. The squad contained six freshmen.

Even the girls got onto the course with its own squad.

Coach Theresia Dunlay organized the girls' golf team only to find out that BHS was the only area school with such a program.

The team consisted of juniors Colinda Eastwood and Janelle Eyssen, sophomore Tammi Lassond and freshmen Jayne Folger, Leilani Fout, Shelly Kirak and Lee Schnittker.

Gathering on the green, the golfers putt out.

Darren Rabant putts a twenty-foot one.

Chip Conference is now history

Despite a team that was small in size and short on experience, the Blue Devil football team capitalized on quickness.

Season highlights were the 22-8 win over conference foe Cloverleaf, the 13-0 shutout over arch-rival Medina and the 20-6 shellacing of West Holmes.

Bright spots on the team radiated from defensive end Bob Ramage, fullback Bob Petelin and pass receiver Larry Petraus, according to Coach Chuck Reisland.

The wins over Cloverleaf and West Holmes were especially sweet since this was the last meeting with these teams in the Chippewa Conference. Next year BHS will play an independent schedule before joining Cloverleaf, North Royalton, Strongsville, Brecksville and Wadsworth in the newly formed Pioneer Conference in 1977.

Rich Medlen and Rick Greenya co-captained the team that sported only seven seniors.

Defense. That was the mainstay of the JV football squad, according to Coach Pete Goulis.

The JV Devils gave up only 63 points in nine games and scored 112 on offense. Four of the games were shutouts.

"The team never let up and they played to win," said Coach Goulis. "We were outsized all the time, but the boys were always in there."

The frosh, under the coaching of Ed Pucci, lost only to conference foe Wadworth and independent Walsh Jesuit.

In its last year in the Chippewa Conference, the freshmen were 1-1-1 against their league rivals.

Gymnasts are few in number

Because they numbered only eight, the boys' varsity gymnastic team met with tough competition in a season without a win.

But the team did experience some strides forward. The greeness wore off the new gymnasts and an increase in numbers will help establish gymnastics as a valuable sport at BHS.

Special awards for the year went to Dave Forister for being the most improved and to Dave Wilson for the most valuable gymnast on the young squad.

Girls' gymnastics takes 2 in 1975

Going into its second year, the girls gymnastic team did well against teams that have been competing for years.

Beginning as an intramural sport, the gymnastics program sported 30 girls in 1975-76. The team consisted of an abundance of freshmen and sophomores.

Outstanding competitors for the season were: Rosa Dibello in the floor exercise, Tracey Waite, a valuable gymnast, Debbie Gaking, most valuable all-around, Sue Vachon, most valuable gymnast, Judy McClintock, most improved, and Barb Szlag, outstanding.

During the balance beam competition, Tammy Wholfiel works on one leg.

Grapplers end 6-4; place fifth in BIT

In addition to the regular season, Brunswick hosted its own invitational wrestling tournament over the Christmas holiday.

The Devils placed fifth out of 14 teams in what Coach Gary Eaton called "the toughest BIT ever."

"Going into the finals, any one of the top five teams could have won it," said Eaton.

Mike Johnson was the only Blue Devil to win his respective weight class.

Mark Johnson made it to the championship round only to lose to Kip Petroff of Copley in a narrow 4-2 decision.

The Devils lead surprised the tourney by the end of the first day with 10 wrestlers left for the second day.

Two BHS wrestlers placed in the consolation rounds, too.

Eric Neely (119) was edged out in a 1-0 defeat to Norton's Lenny Huddleston. Dwayne Roberts (132) also was defeated for a fourth place finish by Dan Gianmarison in a close 3-1 defeat.

By the end of the winter wrestling season, however, the team stood 6-4. The grapplers placed seventh in the sectional tournament and sent three wrestlers to the Baldwin-Wallace Districts.

Mike Childers, Mike Johnson, and Mark Johnson all lost early bouts.

Frosh grapplers find new delight – 4 wrestlers finish year undefeated

With an 8-0 record and four undefeated wrestlers, it's no wonder that Coach Ed Pucci smiled and said, "We're unbeatable."

From the 126 pound class to heavyweight, only one wrestler lost more than one match and the four undefeated grapplers were in that category.

Dan Buser, wrestling at the 126 pound spot, had the team's fastest pin at 10.5 seconds.

Also unbeaten was Tony Banks at the 145 pound position. Don Sciria held the best superior decision when he defeated his opponent 17-2.

Finishing the year at 8-0 was Mark Kerwin, heavyweight, the other unbeaten grappler.

Wrestlers with only one loss were Russ Hein at 85 pounds, Dick Harralson at 95, Keith Morris in the 132 weight class and Larry Carabello at 138 pounds.

"What this year's team lacked in enthusiasm, they made up for in ability," said Coach Ed Pucci about his powerful grapplers.

Cager schedule adds confidence

Although the Devil cagers began their season with a loss to arch-rival Medina, they ended the season with a respectable 8-11 standing.

"The boys really worked hard," said Jack Schneider, head coach. "They had the initial motivation. All they needed was some confidence."

The confidence came when the Devils tipped off against Highland on Dec. 30. This began a five-game win streak that included a big win over highly-favored Triway.

"Berea Midpark was the toughest team overall this year," said Mr. Schneider.

The Meteors ended the win streak, forcing the Devils to put it together again for the final games ahead.

"I think the seniors really proved themselves this year," Coach Schneider said. "Nobody expected half the record we had with their previous team records."

The team had poor records from eighth grade until their junior year. Two of the four seniors, John Vukelich and Scott Erwin made the Plain Dealer "Dream Team."

In sectional play, the Devils nearly upset the Cleveland East Senate powerhouse, East Tech. The Devils came within two points, 70-68, and outrebounded the Scarabs, 36-33. Scott Erwin starred with 38 points.

JV cagers find success formula; team play, togetherness are winners

When you've got a good thing going, you don't change it.

That was the philosophy of this year's victory-laden JV basketball team. In the time since the team came together in the eighth grade, they've been anything but losers with records of 12-3 and 9-5 in eighth and ninth grades respectively. The team concluded the JV season with a 15-3 record.

The JV Devils, a well-balanced squad, put in an average of 54 points per game and gave up only 40 per contest. Over the season, Steve Ficyk popped in 209 points.

John Lamp scored 192, Ron Kohuth dropped in 170 points and Chuck Dyer collected 132.

On the defensive boards, Dyer and Lamp pulled in an average of 12 and ten per game respectively. As a team the JV roundballers ripped 35-40 rebounds off per game.

The basic five-man line-up rarely changed. Dyer, Lamp, Ficyk, Kohuth and Jeff Soss began the games.

Dillon sets mark in the 880 yard run; qualifies for chance in state meet

As the track season came to a close, four Devil trackmen made it to the district meet. There Dave Ross ran a 10.4 in the 100-yard dash.

Clay Pickering's 6'2" mark in the high jump didn't qualify him for the state meet, however.

Bob Miller ran a 9:37 in the two-mile run.

And Matt Dillon's 1:55.9 in the 880 put him in third place. It was good enough to qualify him for the state meet.

At the sectionals, the mile relay team of Mike Rutkowski, Ron Kohuth, Kirk Zachrich and Dillon set a new school record of 3:28.

When Dillon traveled to the Ohio State meet, he came in 13th.

Standouts for the 1976 track season were Matt Dillon in the 880, Dave Ross in the 100-yard dash, and freshman Clay Pickering in the high hurdles.

First-year netters eye next season

BHS's sports scene grew in the spring with the addition of varsity tennis.

Although the rookie netters finished their inaugural season with no wins in 10 matches, first-year coach Dave Rogers considered the year somewhat successful because of the experience his squad received.

Playing schools that had had teams anywhere from 10 to 15 years may have hampered the teams' play to a certain degree, but Coach Rogers looks forward toward next season with optimism and hopes of an easier schedule.

"Each year we'll show marked improvement," said the coach.

Although there was no individual standout, Rogers felt that working with the netters developed a team unity.

The number two doubles team of Rick Wade and John Riess picked up the only point of the season to highlight the somewhat dismal year.

2 named to Chip all-conference baseball team

Scott Erwin and Darren Rabant were named to the All-Conference baseball team by Chippewa coaches to highlight the 1976 baseball season.

Rabant's .441 batting average coupled with his 20 stolen bases made him the coaches' choice, while Erwin's 6-2 pitching record and 1.46 ERA gave him the nod to be on the select squad.

Jack Wentz and Jeff Soss were given honorable mention for the team.

With only three returning lettermen, the diamondmen's over-all record stood at 14-14 and 5-5 in the conference. The team stood third in the Chipp Conference.

Eight juniors and one sophomore will be returning next year. Among them are Jeff Soss, a sophomore who belted 34 hits and maintained a .358 batting average.

Lori Rucky picks up ball one.

Carol Grandinetti scores the winning run.

Cheerleaders yell teams to victories

Full of spirit, excitement and energy, the cheerleaders brought spectators to their feet in support of their favorite teams.

A shout of encouragement does a great deal to spur on an athlete, and in tight games, the more spirited crowd can sometimes spell victory of its team.

Blue Devil Debbie Simcak led the yell squads into the varsity games. She was a cheerleader for BHS for four years.

Enthusiastically, Tina Sarris readies a cheer.

Noontime sports offer recreation

Because not everyone is capable of or has the time for varsity sports, BHS offered its students a year-round intramural sports program.

Headed by Mr. David Rogers in the East House, young athletes had a choice of volleyball, football, basketball, ping-pong, bowling and softball.

In mid-season during the basketball program, a tournament was sponsored to find the top cager's team.

At the West House, Mr. Phil Tipton and Mr. Gil Stevens organized the teams.

Karen Lucas slugs a triple.

Some great pitchers began in intramurals.

Two points drop in for the shirts.

Above: Coed volleyball provided a chance to work off calories. Below: Ken Erman punches out a single.

Howard Hughes dead at 70

HOUSTON — Howard Robard Hughes, the reclusive billionaire for whom airplanes were a lifelong passion, died yesterday on an emergency flight from Acapulco to Houston, his birthplace.

Hughes, last seen in public almost a quarter of a century ago, was 70.

U.S. indicts Gov. Mandel of Maryland for bribery

BALTIMORE — Maryland Gov. Marvin Mandel and five businessmen were indicted by a federal grand jury here yesterday on charges they participated in a "corrupt relationship" designed to defraud the state.

Ending one of the longest and most complex political corruption investigations in the state's history, the grand jury charged Mandel with accepting bribes from the other five defendants in return for his help in manipulating the state legislature and other state agencies to increase the value of Marlboro Race Track in which the businessmen had a financial interest.

According to the indictment Mandel received a financial interest in two real estate ventures, including a previously undisclosed share in a Baltimore County office complex that leases space to the Social Security Administration and other federal agencies.
